DEDICATION

Annual dedications often go to faculty or staff member who perhaps through their position or some aspect of their work are in close contact with the students. This results in a sort of tribute that comes, we think, because of a kind of personal popularity. The highest tribute that can be paid to a teacher is to realize simply that there is something fine about his teaching that causes all students to acknowledge and profit from the fact. This too results in a kind of popularity, the kind that has real meaning in the college atmosphere, where a student yields to the fundamental impulse to seek knowledge under the guidance of extraordinary teaching, intuitively acclaimed by all sincere students.

The History and Political Science classes of William E. Coyle provide just such an atmosphere and pass or fail, few students deny that the instructor is just a "good teacher."

Mr. Coyle is just as popular outside the class as in but the fact remains it is this classroom popularity as an instructor that counts and makes him deserving of the 1961 'Geehee Dedication.

Foreman M. Hawes has been Armstrong's president since 1945 and prior to that time had served the college as chemistry instructor, dean of students and acting president. As a member of the Armstrong staff from the earliest years of the college, President Hawes has always shown an interest in students and in student affairs. In current years as the college has moved from a city college to a state supported institution, and in spite of the increased concerns for the college administration that accompany such changes, one feels that students, their opinions and problems, remain a matter of personal interest to him and that Armstrong College can hardly fail to move on to greater achievement under the guidance of his helpful concern.

FOREMAN M. HAWES
President of Armstrong College of Savannah

Mr. Joseph Killorin, a former history teacher at Armstrong, serves the college as Academic Dean. He is responsible for coordinating the instructional program and is constantly studying ways to improve the academic side of Armstrong College.

The Masquers boasted a large turnout of over forty members in 1961. Fall Quarter president, Louis Karacostas took an active role in organizing the group and also played a comic role in the fall production of Jean Anouilh's "Thieves' Carnival."

Winter Quarter saw a change in presidency, Angela Whittington, a veteran Masquer taking over, and the production of three one-act plays, Tennessee Williams' "Portrait of a Madonna," Thornton Wilder's "Queens of France," and Josephina Niggli's "Sunday Costs Five Pesos."

Under the capable direction of Al Gordon, all productions proved successful and a credit to the hard-working Masquers.

Radio Workshop

The Radio Workshop this year started out with its largest and hardest working group yet. It has extended its hours of broadcasting to five hours a day—8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

New records, valued at seventy-five dollars, were bought this year. This helped in the presentation of better and more varied music.

Many of the Radio Workshop's disc-jockies this year broadcasted from the DeRenne Drive three nights a week—Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

B.S.U. opened the school year with a welcoming party at the college to entertain new members. A program for the year with the general title, "The Individual and His Life" was adopted. The fall quarter portion of this program was devoted to "Various Religions," the winter quarter to "Faith and a Mate," and for the spring, "Christian Youth Vocations."

Ann Farren, president, led the group to the annual B.S.U. convention in Athens, held in October.

Fall mission projects included a Thanksgiving basket for needy families and a vesper service held for student nurses at Memorial Hospital. Plans for the spring include a beach party, the annual banquet for the installation of new officers and a spring retreat at the FFA Camp in Covington, Georgia.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Episcopal student group, the Canterbury Club, held weekly Sunday evening-supper meetings at Saint Paul's Episcopal Church. Under the guidance of Father Peacock and faculty advisors Mrs. Julia Smith and John Morris discussions were held and guest speakers invited to speak on various subjects concerning religious and home life. The group participated in the annual Caroling on Christmas Eve. For Lent, a study of the Church and its history, faith, and practices were held.

John Morris, Advisor; Catherine Embry, Secretary; Mrs. Smith, Advisor; Stratton Ingram, President; Father Peacock, Chaplain.

NEWMAN CLUB

The main focus of attention for the Newman Club this year was placed on group discussions on religious subjects led by Father Robert Teoli, club moderator. These discussions dealt with the Catholic Church's views in the presidential election and on the racial controversy.

In the beginning of January a Communion breakfast was held to launch the winter quarter program. Plans for a breakfast during the spring quarter are in the making.

Plans for the year also included an address by Father John Cuddy, diocesan superintendent of Catholic schools, on the subject of the Eumenical Council.

Father Robert Teoli, Club Moderator.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation held bi-monthly meetings at the Wesley Monumental Church adjacent to the campus. In the fall, with Jerry Tuttle as president, the club organized a discussion program on timely religious topics. A speaker from the Catholic and Protestant faiths were invited to give their views on "The Relationship Between Church and State."

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

Westminster Fellowship, the Armstrong religious club for Presbyterian students, was reorganized in the winter of 1961 after a year of inactivity. Regular bi-monthly meetings were held in a comfortable lounge at the Independent Presbyterian Church. Supper-meetings were held each Sunday evening and a program was formulated on the subject of "Christianity in Different Business Vocations." Representatives from local business concerns served as speakers for these meetings.

BETA LAMBDA

Beta Lambda started the year with a welcome party for new members after which officers were elected. Several representatives attended a state Home Economics Convention at Georgia Southern which was designed to help the clubs plan programs for the year. The club sponsored a tea for the American Association of University Women. Spring plans included a fashion show of the garments that have been made by Home Economics students.

Dance Committee

This year's Dance Committee sponsored two additional dances to the dance schedule of past years. These were a Victory Dance following the Homecoming Game, and a Pioneer Days' Dance to climax the Pioneer Days period at Armstrong.

The other dances were the Get Acquainted Dance, the Halloween Dance, and the Homecoming Dance in the fall quarter; the Valentines' Dance in the winter quarter; and the Spring Dance in the spring quarter.

Debate Forum

The plans of the Debate Forum included four major tournaments this year as well as other minor debates. The major debates were the Dixie Debate Tournament sponsored by Mercer University, the Peachtree Invitational Tournament at Emory University, the Florida State University Invitational Tournament, and the University of Georgia Tournament.

This year, Armstrong's high award was won by Fred Vetter and Cliff Sowell. It was third place in the Peachtree Invitational Tournament.

GLEE CLUB

The 1961 Glee Club, with twenty-five members, presented the annual Christmas Concert in the lobby of the Armstrong Building early in December. Norma Maxwell was soprano soloist, Louis Bouchelle played the flute and Peggy Roney and Nancy Cunningham served as accompanists for the concert. Plans for the Spring include a musical skit as part of the Pioneer Days Assembly.

SECRETARY-ETTES

Secretary-Ettes started its year with the annual invitation ceremony where the members and officers of the Savannah Chapter of the National Secretaries' Association installed the new officers and members for the coming year. A tea followed this ceremony.

Two of the major projects for this year included singing and visiting the ladies at Abraham's Home, and reading and visiting with children in childrens' homes and orphanages in Savannah.

In May the annual Secretary-Ettes' banquet was held where one senior high school girl from Savannah was awarded a full scholarship by the National Secretaries' Association for study in the secretarial field at Armstrong College.

Plans have been made for a houseparty at Savannah Beach to climax the year's activities after final exams in the Spring Quarter.

Young Democrats

The Young Democrats started out the year with their biggest group yet. Under the leadership of their enthusiastic president, Billy DeLoach, the group led an extremely successful Kennedy-Johnson campaign parade. A rally at the city's Democratic headquarters followed at which time several leading Democratic personalities spoke.

Just before the Presidential Election the Young Democrats took a poll of the students at Armstrong. Kennedy and Johnson won by a close margin.

Seated: Mary Ellen Gleasan, Secretary and Jannie Batayias, Senote Representative. Standing: Bobby Falligant, Treasurer; Hamer DeLaach, President; Joe Marcus, Vice-President

Young Republicans

An enthusiastic Young Republican argues his point.

This year the Young Republicans was officially recognized as an organization of Armstrong College. It started out with a very enthusiastic group that was eager to challenge the democratic group on campus. The club sponsored a Nixon-Lodge Day rally which was climaxed with a Republican rally at which local Republican leaders spoke.

BASKETBALL TEAM

The 1961 Geechees, led by high scorers Jimmy George, Tracy Dixon, and Danny Stewart, continued their impeccable play on the home court and extended the Hellenic center win-streak to twenty-four games. On the road the Geechees didn't fare quite as well but they finished the season with a respectable record of 14 wins against 7 losses.

In the State Junior College Tournament the Geechees romped over Georgia Military College in the first round but fell in the second to top-seeded Young Harris College, the subsequent tournament champion.

Jimmy George, outstanding second year man, took top honors in conference scoring with a 22.3 average and went on to win the Ashley K. Dearing Trophy for the best percentage of free throws by Armstrong players.

Savannah's Old Harbor Light
Erected 1858

Savannah's historic harbor light was erected over one hundred years ago to serve as a beacon for ships. Though it is no longer in use, it remains as a proud symbol of our heritage. Just as the Old Harbor Light was once a guiding light for ships, your Savannah Morning News and Savannah Evening Press serve today as a beacon for the community through progressive news coverage, editorial opinion, and advertising service.
